Do We Win or Lose Under Dawes Plan?
Houghton Emerges

IT is debated whether America wins or loses in the arrangement to pay our claims out of the Dawes plan reparations. We get our money, if the Dawes plan works; but we also become parties of interest in making it work. That is exactly what we do not want. It is our official policy to demand all the rights, and accept none of the duties, under the treaty of Versailles. Now, by insisting on a right, we fear we may have got a responsibility.

But, after all, there is only one relation of life which offers benefits exempt from responsibilities. That is the position of doting grandparent. And America is not yet grandmother to the world.

ALANSON B. HOUGHTON, the new ambassador to the Court of St. James, has been so isolated in his delicate position as ambassador to Germany that he is little known in the diplomatic world. But he will emerge a very presentable figure in the more visible place, the primary qualification which our alleged democracy imposes on its foreign representatives. He has the price. As the only ambassador in London whose government does not furnish him a house, he can pay twice his salary for rent, as his predecessors have done, and keep up the place at his own cost.

So long as we imagine that is democratic, this is the first consideration. But Mr. Houghton has also shown great tact at Berlin in maintaining the absolute confidence of the German leaders without abating any of his Americanism. German of all factions have realized that they could deal with him in good faith and have dared tell him the truth. He may not prove one of the spectacular historic figures in London, but he will be a trustworthy listening post and a loyal representative. As much could not be said of all his recent predecessors.

Did Borah Make Hughes Quit?
THE known fact that Secretary Hughes and Senator Borah do not agree, and the rumors that this is one of the motives behind Hughes' resignation, raise another question, in which Secretary Hughes is also much interested. Why should an administration policy have to trust to luck and seniority for its spokesmen in congress? And why should there be no mechanism of cooperation between the executive and legislative branches of government, for the conduct of their joint business? The movement to give cabinet ministers the right to speak for themselves in congress has Mr. Hughes' hearty support. Perhaps, if the system were already in operation, he might have been tempted to leave the public service.

Too Easy to Get a Gun in U. S.
ONCE more, there is agitation over the disgraceful statistics of murder and violent crime in America. Literally, we murder a larger part of our population every year, and catch and convict fewer of the murderers, than any other nation on earth. And if many of these murderers are foreign immigrants, it is also true that these immigrants do proportionately far more murdering here than an equal number of their countrymen do in their own countries; so, whatever it is, they learned it here.

There may be many reasons; but two, at least are clear, and one of these, fortunately, is simple. The looser administration of our criminal laws may be slow to cure. The absurd facility with which pocket weapons may be procured and kept is easier. This is the only country in the world in which, when the impulse to kill strikes an angry, a drunken, a weak, unbalanced or criminal man, he usually has the weapon in his pocket with which to do it. Business may be the most sacred thing in America; but surely the revolver industry is not so sacred as this!

Big Task to Test Drivers
Mental and physical tests for certificates to drive automobiles are in their annual agitation. Decidedly, they are needed. There are persons driving cars now who are half blind, or deaf or crippled. These are the easy cases. There are those who will not keep sober. And that means, for automobile safety, dead sober, and not merely "not drunk." And there are those whose mental, emotional or physical reactions are too slow or uncertain. Tests for all these disabilities exist. And, if it were a matter of engineers or motormen, they would be applied. For a few hundreds, or thousands, it is easy. But with automobiles, it means millions. Where are the competent experts or equipment to do it on such a scale? They simply do not exist. The automobile has swamped our scientific facilities, quite as certainly as it has jammed our highways.

"30" BULLETINS
Bryant Well No. 2 at Seal Beach came in this morning, spouting oil, mud and water fifty feet over the derrick, according to a report received in Santa Ana at noon. At that hour it could not be determined how much of a producer the new hole will be. Gas in plenty was reported.

HUGHES TO BATTLE FOR PARIS PACT

Secretary of State Denies Senate Jurisdiction on Reparations

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 19.—Secretary of State Hughes today issued an official statement denying the senate jurisdiction over the Paris reparations agreement against which the irascible group has launched a drive. Hughes today again emphatically denied reports that Ambassador Kellogg had asked for allied consent to sign the agreement with reservations.

Hughes said the agreement is "not a body, agency or commission provided for either by our treaty with Germany or by the treaty of Versailles," and accordingly it was within the power of the executive to authorize its signature without the advice or consent of the senate. Hughes reiterated that the United States incurs no "commitments" under the agreement and declared it does not provide for sanctions. The full text of the agreement is on the way to this country and will be published as soon as it is received, Hughes said, with indirect reference to the Johnson resolution.

Almost simultaneously with the issuance of Hughes' statement, Senator George Messersmith, Republican, declared that if the agreement does not entangle the United States, he will urge on the floor of the senate that steps be taken to protect this country. Senator Willis, Ohio, Republican, called at the White House to confer with President Coolidge relative to heading off the impending senate fight.

Hughes' statement follows: "The conclusion of the agreement reached at the recent conference in Paris which relates to participation of the United States in the Dawes annuities has already been published in the newspapers. The full text of the agreement is on its way to this country and will be published as soon as received."

"In the meantime, it may be said: 'The conference of finance ministers held at Paris was to reach an agreement on allocation of reparations reached through the Dawes agreement. Through the conclusive character of the payments, it was necessary for the United States to take part in the conference in order to protect its interests.'"

"The conference at Paris was not a body, agency or commission provided for either by our treaty with Germany or by the treaty of Versailles. In taking part in this conference there were no violations of the reservation attached by the senate to the treaty of Berlin."

"The agreement reached at Paris was simply for the allocation of the payments made under the Dawes plan. It does not provide for sanctions or deal with any questions that might arise if the contemplated payments should not be made. With respect to any contingency, the agreement at Paris puts the United States under no obligation legally or morally, and the United States will be as free as ever was to take any course of action it may think advisable."

REPORT ON RAISING GAS TAX IS DUE

Legislators Start Last Week of First Half of General Assembly

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Jan. 19.—The state legislature convenes today for the final week of the first half session ending January 24. Governor Richardson's "committee of nine" appointed to investigate the advisability of a 1-cent increase in the gasoline tax as a means of obtaining revenue to complete the state's highway system, is scheduled to make some sort of a report today.

Completion of the state highway system is one of the big problems facing the legislature this season. The increased gasoline tax and an increase of from $3 to $5 in the fee for automobile licenses was endorsed by the County Supervisors' association last week and this endorsement is expected to carry considerable weight when the matter comes before the legislature.

Arthur Breed, president pro tempore of the senate, is chairman "of the committee of nine" and is known to favor the increased tax on gasoline. This fact has led to the belief on the part of supporters of the method that the committee's report will be favorable.

The assembly committee on ways and means will begin a series of public hearings on the budget appropriation bill today. Little, if any, opposition to the budget is expected this session because of the administration majority in the lower house.

HUNT SLAYER OF SAN PEDRO MAN

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Jan. 19.—With scant clues to aid them, police today started a search for the man suspected of having killed August Timms, 25-year-old ferry boat captain, late last night.

Timms' body was found at the base of a 20-foot embankment at the rear of his home. His landlady said he came in about two hours before his corpse was discovered.

LITTLE MONEY WILL BE SPENT IN DEFENSE OF GIRL WHO SLEW MOTHER

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19.—Dorothy Ellingson, San Francisco's 16-year-old Swedish girl, who killed her mother in a fit of "Jazzmania," is going to face the courts with hardly a penny spent on her defense.

"This case is going to be tried on its merits," said Frank J. Egan, public defender, who will represent Dorothy. "There's no money to spend for alienists. The only money is the few dollars a day the state allows for witness fees."

Dorothy's father agreed with Egan.

"I haven't any money to spend," he said. "And another thing," he went on with determination, "there isn't going to be any lying in this case. Dorothy is my daughter and I'm going to stand by her and see she gets justice but nobody's going to lie for her and she isn't going to lie for herself."

Kerith Lord, one of the male friends of Dorothy, arrived here yesterday under arrest from Los Angeles, where he played a banjo in the "Frisco Five," a jazz orchestra. He is charged with contributing to Dorothy's delinquency.

SAY WINERIES VIOLATE LAWS FOR OPERATION

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19.—An attempt to expose alleged irregularities in winery management in California will be made here today, according to Deputy United States District Attorney Alma Myers, with the filing of a libel action against the Arakohn, Kollerman and Rothman winery at Escalon, Cal.

The immediate target of the action is 60,000 gallons of wine allegedly to have been manufactured illegally by the winery and which federal authorities want destroyed.

Evidence will be introduced in connection with the case, however, Myers promised, would tend to show that not only is much wine being manufactured illegally in California but that more than $1,000,000 worth has disappeared in a comparatively short time from wineries under seal by the federal government. Illegal sales have been made and branded "thefts" and that the way of the prohibition transgressor has been greased with graft.

TOTAL ECLIPSE STIRS STAR-GAZERS

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Jan. 19.—With expectations that the point of totality of Saturday's solar eclipse will be directly above Niagara Falls, the Cleveland astronomical society will make its observations from the roof of the Niagara Falls hotel.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 19.—Harvard's mid-year examinations will be postponed until 10 a. m. Saturday because of the solar eclipse. This is the second time in 240 years such a change in schedule has appeared. In 1684, the college moved forward its commencement day to avoid an eclipse.

STANDARD'S ACT BRINGS RUMORS OF NEW FIELD

Tender Landowners What Is Declared to Be Attractive Proposition

OFFER BONUS UNTIL DRILLING COMMENCES

Company, However, Reserves Right to Cancel Contract at Any Time

THE Greenville district, six miles south and west of Santa Ana, today became a prospective oil field when it became known that the Standard Oil company had representatives in the field tendering landowners what is said to be an attractive lease offer.

As near as could be learned, the center of the attempt at leasing is in the vicinity of the R. L. Tedford and Lawrence Wakeham properties, at the corner of Greenville road and Wakeham road. The intersection is the location of the Greenville school house.

While all the details of the contract offered could not be learned, it was understood that the big oil company is offering a bonus of $5 an acre per month until drilling operations are started, with cancellation being automatic if work is not started within three years. The company, however, may cancel at any time prior to expiration of the three-year period.

Lease Already Made
According to reports, R. L. Tedford already has leased his 80 acres. It is understood that offers are under consideration by Will Armstrong, Stephen Griset, D. A. Bear, Rene Callens and others.

It was stated that Bear and Armstrong probably would make final decision today as to whether they would attack their "John Henry" to lease.

W. A. Vane is the name of one of the representatives of the Standard who is conducting negotiations with the landowners. The contract offered is not a camouflage, with the lease being made to Vane with the understanding that he would assign it to the oil company. The name of the company is used in the contract.

Representatives of the Standard have given no indication that geologists of the company have made investigations that lead them to believe that a pool of oil underlies the territory in which leases are being offered, said a resident of the Greenville district. "They have given the inference that the company, if it drills, will do so to prospect the field, the leases being taken to protect the interests of the company if oil should be discovered as the result of its prospecting work."

Owners were elated today at the prospect of the big company going into the field, for they feel that if there is oil-bearing sands below the surface the company will find it, and will develop the field if discoveries justify fast operations. It has been maintained for many years past that there is a body of oil in the Greenville district, but to date no company of big finances has had the temerity to attempt leasing and prospecting.

NAB 6 IN PLOT TO BLOW UP WARSHIPS

LONDON, Jan. 19.—Five men and a woman charged with being Sinn Fein extremists and involved in a plot to blow up British battleships at Portsmouth, were under arrest and were questioned here today.

Five were later charged under the "official secrets act." Motive for the alleged plot is believed to have been the stirring up of trouble between Great Britain and the Irish Free State.

Correct Clothes To Meet the Obligation Of Every Occasion

THE BUTTON-UP CAP
Winter ports! Who among us, with blood not turned to vanilla syrup, can be unfeeling to the d of spicy January? Avant, ye super-fahnehted, devitalized register-huggers, flabby of claim and flabby of spine! Not so long ago garments and accessories of winter outdoor were thick and lubberty, hinting of Hank rhynd, rather than of the gentleman-sportman. This season one meets the sprucest id seemliest of clothes, well-fitting and picturesque in a ruddy, rugged sort of way.
Colorful fleeces and scarfs of Shetland or Angora wool are smart and pitiful. So, too, are those mask-like cut-out, woven helmets, covering head and ears and leaving only nose and mouth exposed. Short, belted plaid wool reefers, some with fur collars, are mufavored in cold climates.
Fur-lined overcoats have been revived, perhaps as a relief from the now too familiar raccoon id muskrat coats that one sees on every hand, or, rather, back collars of dark mink with lighter mink lining and shells (bodies of cheviot, vicuna, polo cloth and camel's hair are much worn. Aaked, as well as shawl collars, are smart.
Double-breasted reefers, altemed "short warmers," are capital for January and cold weather. They resemble pilot jackets—sort of abbreviated ulsters—and argut of hefty Scotch Shetlands. The notable advantage of the reefers that it leaves your legs free, a factor of consequence in manwinter sports and pastimes. Tight-fitting, round-shape caps of seal, Persian lamb, beaver and other furs are topping when a wind whistles, though principally worn for motoring, skating, skis, tobogganing, bob-sledding and the like.
The cap, illustrated here, ay be of inexpensive knitted wool or worsted or of costly fur. The buttoned flaps enable one to wear it up or down, according to the particular purpose desired.
Of course, the weather and a climate should determine the use of such special accessories of ess. They are not recommended as fashions, but as articles whicid to one's comfort and smart appearance only if the occasion justifies them.

Seminar Plans Tours

An inspection tour through the Santa Ana Laundry is being arranged for the postponed meeting of the Science Seminar to be held Tuesday of next week, according to announcement made today.
Plans for the Seminar trip are being completed by Theodore B.
Kelly, chemistry teacher. Delegate members of the science organization are high school students who by specially meritorious work are appointed from each class in the science department.

For subsequent meetings, other trips are being scheduled in charge of other science departments. It is probable that the next tour will take the students to the county inspector at the invitation of H. E.
Wahlberg, county farm advisor.

Students Rate High

Reports from Stanford university received at the Santa Ana high school give high ratings to two former students who are attending their first year at the Palo Alto institution. These students are Jack Snow and Donald Fritts. Though the average work of the Freshmen students rated 1.285, the rating for Snow was given as 1.56 and that of Fritts 1.50.

Invite Faculty to Attend

Members of the faculty at the Santa Ana high school are to be given special invitation to attend the Apollo club meeting tomorrow afternoon in the Music auditorium.
The club president, Louis Napier, has been going around to every teacher making personal calls.

Members of the club and all students interested in music are insured a good program, according to Napier, who has arranged for students in the music club to provide the program.

Outside of the student numbers, one of the main features is the appearance of Miss Holly Lash of Santa Ana who is to give vocal solos.

Other selections include a saxophone solo by Robert Gilbert, clarinet solos by Edwin Beisel, piano solos by Miss Madeline Moase, violin solos by Miss Olive Smith, and Loren Cannon, readings by Miss Margaret Caruthers and Miss
Beth Nunn, vocal solos by Miss
Loretta Spangler, Miss Corinne
Blackburn, and Frank Johnson; ending with cornet solos by Parel
Jones and Raymond Hutchins.

Latin Club Plan Plays

With still a month to wait, the Latin Club at the high school has under way plans for the semester party scheduled in the latter part of February.

The Caesar and Virgil class are to be set to work on plays as soon as the excitement of examinations now under way at the school are concluded. One of the plays is to be a surprise selection, according to Miss Anna Trythall, faculty adviser for the Latin club.

BOBBED HAIR CAUSETH MUCH ANGUISH UNTIL MULTITUDE ENLIGHTENED

Now, it came to pass that women began bobbing their hair.

And it was so that the barber shops became filled with women waiting for the barber. Any many were the men who became wroth with what they did see.

For many months did they remain patient. But at last they arose and with a great and mighty shout they went into all the shops in the land.

And the barbers, men of many hamlets and cities, answered and said unto the multitudes, Lo it doth enrich us to bob women's hair. It meaneth many shekels. We entreat you that we be not forbidden to clip your wives, daughters and sweethearts' heads.

And the men hearkened unto the words of the barbers and left and departed from their homes.

A Wise Man Speaketh

And behold, there came a man of great and mighty wisdom, who said unto the men, Lo, it doeth no good to quarrel with bobbed hair. Thy women will bobbeth it anyway. It availeth you nothing to dwell in anger. Rejoice and be exceedingly glad, for it doth mean that you will purchaseth fewer hairpins.

And the men were exceedingly glad and went and spent the day in feasting and making merry.

Quite a Convenience
A barber's wife has quite an advantage. She doesn't have to depend on the neighbors for the town gossip.

Turn About's Fair play
What's become of the old fashioned man who used to hang around the street corners telling stories? Why, he's home shaving his wife's neck!

Be Careful, Ladies
Many a home is being broken up these days because the wife insists upon using her husband's razor.

A Case for the Police
Does anyone in the house recall the name of the magazine that has been superseded by the Ladies Home Journal?

Popular As Can Be
Can it be said that the present day barber is a ladies man?

Prize Fights vs. Tea Parties
The ladies have discovered that they are not the only ones who can discourse fluently.

Gone are the Days

Who remembers the time when the women who brought her small son or brother into a shop to have his hair cut sat with embarrassed demeanor during the operation?

This Kind Costs Money

Ladies who drop into a tonsorial establishment for a bob or neck shave are reminded that the porter is referring to their shoes and not their noses when he inquires about a shine.

Do We Hear Any Amens

What with bobbed hair, eight-inch earrings, lifted faces and a host of other fads, it's a wise husband who knows his own wife.

Remember When?

One slightly used ouija board will be presented to the person who guesses what fad will succeed bobbed hair and cross-word puzzles.

Too Much Competition

It seems that the work craze will never become really popular.

Hi there Bob Hair

We don't know whether there is a Bob Hair in Santa Ana or not but if there is, it's a safe bet he's popular with the ladies.

It Rhymes With Sob

What is it, in three letters, beginning with "bo," that is becoming to some women and anything but that to others.

"Laugh"

A laugh a day keeps the wrinkles away, which is more truth than poetry. Laughs are also excellent for the lungs and in addition, enable the owner of gold teeth to display them to advantage. A good laugh will chase away the blues but no laugh yet invented has been able to chase away a good bill collector. Every man should save one big laugh as an emergency in case some bright fellow comes along and steals the one and only. Thus laugh is one of those kinds that improve with age. There are apparently no set rules on how to laugh, although one should be careful not to laugh too loudly nor too quietly. If too much noise is made, those in the immediate vicinity are apt to be annoyed. If not enough noise is made, the person waiting and expecting a laugh is apt to be annoyed. A smile is really a laugh with the muffer closed. Friendly laughs smooth the miles and help us laugh along life's path.

Today's Interesting Fact

A lead pencil without lead is of no use for writing purposes.

"H. O." WINS PROTECTION

Many large manufacturers have devoted untiring effort and expended a great deal of money to establish and protect the good will of their business, including trade-marks used by them in connection with it.

An interesting decision has just been rendered by the commissioner of patents in favor of the H-O Cereal company, Inc., of Buffalo, N. Y., which is making every effort to prevent any infringement of its trade-marks.

The decision referred to involved the trade-mark "H-O" which the H-O Cereal company, Inc., has, for nearly half a century, used on its high-grade products, including H-O oats. A New York corporation coined the trade-mark "Hiofood" and used it on several cereal products. The H-O Cereal company, Inc., contested the use of this trade-mark by the competitor as infringing on its long established and used mark "H-O," and after contesting the matter in the U. S. patent office for a period of some two years, the decision referred to above has just been published.

Don't forget tomorrow night, Tuesday, Jan. 20th, Rev. John W. Goodwin, a great preacher at the Church of the Nazarene, corner of Fifth and Parton Sts. Hear him.

Guard against 'Flu' With Musterole

Influenza, Grippe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches, get busy with good old Musterole.

Musterole is a counter-irritant that relieves congestion (which is what a cold really is) and stimulates circulation.

It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister.

Just rub it on with your finger-tips. First you will feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

GAS STATION IS WRECKED SECOND TIME

Av L. White, owner of a gasoline station at the intersection of Laguna Avenue and the Newport road, near Tustin, until yesterday was a firm believer in the old adage that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. Today his views are changed.

Several weeks ago a high powered automobile crashed into his service station, moved down the gasoline pumps, crashed into the building and set it afire, burning it to the ground. The car was destroyed with it.

White set to work, rebuilt the station, re-erected the pumps and smilingly went about his business, feeling sure that the ill fortune that visited him had departed for all time.

Today, he is again building back the pumps and concrete work, following a similar accident which took place at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when a car "ran wild" and again mowed down his pumps and crashed into his building. The accident failed however to set fire to the building this time.

M. L. Fouch, of Yucapita, Calif., was driving the car that crashed into the service station yesterday, according to a report on file at the sheriff's office. He told White that he was forced off the road by a car running along Laguna Avenue which met the auto he was driving at the intersection.

The report was to the effect that Fouch was running at a rate of 21 miles an hour when he arrived at the intersection, and it pointed out

L. B. WOMAN HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Mrs. E. K. Taylor, 1258 Appleton street, Long Beach, was injured, when the automobile in which she was riding with her husband, collided with a car driven by George Manderscheid, Santa Ana, near the Orange county line, at the Bixby ranch, at 5:30 p. m., Saturday, according to a report made by Manderscheid at the sheriff's office here.

The report says Taylor, who was driving his car, "cut in" on the Manderscheid car, striking it in the front end. The Taylor car swerved off and was overturned, badly wrecking it.

The extent of injuries sustained by Mrs. Taylor were not learned. She was taken to her home in Long Beach by friends.

No one in the Manderscheid car was hurt.

Wool Men Gather for Meet In S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19.—Wool men from the West began arriving here today, for the annual convention of the National Wool Growers association, which opens Wednesday. Market conditions, co-operative selling, and development of the Pacific coast as a wool manufacturing as well as growing section are among the problems to be discussed.

that there was a distance of 110 feet from the point on the intersection where the two cars met, to the place where Fouch stopped his car. The car was badly damaged. White has not estimated his loss.

Interesting Guests
Spend Week-end at Moulton Ranch

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Moulton had the pleasure of entertaining as recent guests, Mrs. Lena K. Ward of Niles, France, and Mrs. Phoebe Waggoner of Liverpool, England, who enjoyed a week-end visit at El Rancho Niguel.

Delightful reminiscences of interesting trips together were enjoyed by hostess and guests who had been fellow-travelers on the sea voyage to Panama and also on an Alaskan trip.

Mrs. Ward who is a native of France, spends much time in Pasadena where her young foster daughter has been attending a girls' school. She maintains her headquarters at Hotel Vista del Arroyo as does Mrs. Waggoner, although both are constantly in a state of fitting to some beautiful spot on the world's surface. They contemplate leaving within a few weeks for Honolulu in company with others of the little party which journeyed to Alaska together—the trip shared by Mrs. Moulton, her daughter Miss Charlotte Moulton, and Mrs. Ella Campau of this city.

Musical Tea Will Open New School
Santa Ana friends of Mrs. Edwina Hamilton have been deeply interested in her plans to open a school of coaching and applied psychology, and hence have had that interest fanned by the recently issued cards to the informal tea with which the school will be launched. This will be a musical tea from 3 to 5 o'clock on the afternoon of Sunday, January 25, at the school, 510 South Kenmore avenue, Los Angeles. Mrs. Hamilton will have associated with her, an eminent psychologist in the person of Dr. Arthur H. Sutherland.

Their opening affair promises to be unusually interesting and the fact that music will be a leading feature has caused local friends to hope that they may have the pleasure of hearing Ellis Rhodes sing. Mrs. Hamilton, who is the mother of Mrs. Ellis Rhodes (June Hamilton Rhodes) has a wide circle of friends in this city where she maintained her home for an extended period at the Hamilton-Rhodes place on East Chestnut street. All are bespeaking success for her in her school.

Thimble Club
A very happy meeting of the Thimble club of the Women of Woodcraft was held last Friday afternoon when Mrs. Harry Gross of 1512 West Second street was genial hostess.

The women whiled away the afternoon hours with needlework and late in the afternoon, Mrs. Gross served delicious cake with whipped cream and coffee. Fourteen were present to enjoy the afternoon. At the brief business session, plans were completed for the installation of officers to be held by the Women of Woodcraft tonight at Modern Woodmen hall.

Club Members Plan
Birthday Dinner
For Mrs. Crain

Birthday honors were recently accorded Mrs. A. N. Crain by her sister members of the Inter Se club when the regular meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Lewis Hoff, 511 South Sycamore street.

The party was made an all-day event with an elaborate chicken dinner served at noon-day. The birthday motif was emphasized at the dinner with its charming table appointments all in pink and white—flowers, candles, nut-cups and place cards.

Following the enjoyment of the delicious menu, the guests took delight in showering Mrs. Crain with birthday remembrances among which were many highly diverting joke gifts.

Mrs. L. M. Hoff sr. and Mrs. Mary Armstrong were club guests while members present in addition to the hostess, Mrs. Hoff jr. and Mrs. Crain, the honoree, were Mesdames George Graves, George Curtis, Frank McCarter, Charles Mitchell, R. C. Burkett, Charles Aubrey, A. V. Napier, F. T. Martin, Merle Morris and Frank Cannon.

Aid Society
Richland Avenue
Plans are all completed for a get-acquainted dinner at Richland Avenue church tomorrow at 6 o'clock when the second section of the Aid society will engineer the event. All church members and friends are urged to attend and aid in fostering the friendly feeling among members of the congregation. The supper committee promises a toothsome menu for which a very small sum will be asked just to cover expenses as the affair is not planned as a money-making project so much as a friendship-forming one.

First Presbyterian
Beginning at 10 a. m. Wednesday, the Ladies' Aid society of the First Presbyterian church will hold an interesting all-day sewing and comfort tying. At 12 o'clock, luncheon will be served and it is hoped that the men of the church will be liberal patrons. In the afternoon an interesting program will be given.

Shoe Repair Men
Raise Standard
John H. Heitman, the Grand Central Market shoe repair man, has just received the Official Sign of the United Shoe Repairing Machinery company, Boston, Mass.

To secure this sign a shoe repairer must pass a qualification test proving his ability to repair shoes properly. After the award of the sign, inspectors make frequent inspections throughout the year at reasonable intervals and times unknown to the show that is being inspected. This tends to keep the standard of workmanship in Official Sign shops on an equal plane. Work of high standard must prevail or forfeiture of the right to display the Official Sign is the result.

"Stripes Indeed!"
Says Spring Maid

The combination of plain and figured materials is one frequently met with in spring fashions. Here is a typical spring suit with striped skirt and plain coat trimmed with the plaid. The coat could be worn very nicely with a white silk skirt while the skirt would look very attractive with a sweater jacket. So it is a valuable addition to any wardrobe.

The skeleton of a small, toothless dinosaur recently was unearthed, and scientists believe it must have gained its living by eating the eggs of other and larger dinosaurs.

Retiring Officer Has Dinner Arranged In Her Honor

Extending a charming courtesy to Mrs. Emma K. Wassum, retiring head of the Pythian Sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Deaver entertained at dinner recently at their home, 1405 East First street.

All in red and green were the attractive decorations both of the home and the artistically appointed table where a crystal basket of cotoneaster sprays lent a brilliant touch. Red candles continued the color scheme while feathery ferns added to the effect.

Mrs. Deaver served a delightful dinner of several courses with chicken as the piece de resistance. Covers were placed for the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Deaver, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wassum, Little Miss Elizabeth Wassum, Master Billy Wassum and Miss Marianna Deaver, attractive young daughter of the home.

Young Girl Receives Gold Pin In Music Study Contest

One of Saturday afternoon's pleasant events was an informal musical gathering at the home of Miss Leonora Tompkins, 711 South Sycamore street, where some 30 of her piano pupils enjoyed an informal gathering at which a little music club was launched.

The outstanding event of the afternoon was the presentation of a gold pin, appropriately shaped as a lute, offered by Miss Tompkins to the pupil practicing the greatest results, over an eleven-weeks' period of time. The lovely little trophy was won by eleven-year-old Sarah Bordon who had 143 hours to her credit and in the three months' time since beginning her musical studies, had covered the usual work of nine months.

Miss Tompkins was asked to superintend the activities of the club and Miss Orpha Ellwood was named as secretary with Miss Patricia Kennedy as treasurer. Many interesting things are being planned as the organization grows and develops.

A short impromptu musical program followed the club organization and Miss Tompkins responded to the request of her young guests by opening the program. Others playing piano selections were Florence Resnick, Florence Hutchins, Ann Sutherland, Floyd Rest, Vivian Herr and Helen Turley.

A pleasant note was sounded at the tea hour when the hostess assisted by her mother, Mrs. J. H. Tompkins, served the daintiest of refreshments to the young guests.

Unitarian Alliance
Mrs. A. H. T. Taylor, matron of Ebell Day nursery will be the speaker at Wednesday afternoon's meeting of the Unitarian Women's alliance in the church parlors at 2:30 o'clock. She will speak on the work and the needs of the nursery and all interested in such work are urged to be present.

Brotherly Group
Assembles For Birthday

Entertaining at a 6 o'clock dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Holderman honored Mrs. Holderman's brother, Myron Halderman and his twenty-sixth birthday in a most delightful manner late last week.

Red and white were chosen as the prevailing decorative colors and the table was appropriately centered with a handsome white birthday cake sparkling with its 26 red candles. A delectable chicken dinner was served.

Following the dinner the guests who were confined to brothers of the hostess and honor guest, enjoyed an evening of friendly companionship. Those present were the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Holderman, the honor guest, Myron Halderman with his wife and their son, Donald; Eugene and Lloyd Halderman of the home; B. G. Halderman of this city, L. P. Halderman and L. G. Halderman of Anaheim and C. W. Halderman of Long Beach.

Spurgeon
Cross "number" puzzles are the most interesting kind of arithmetic Spurgeon pupils have had for a long time. The upper grades have them now and like them best when they are long and have "stickers" in them.

Basketball has come forward to take the place of indoor baseball it being the most popular game among the higher groups. We plan to have some very good teams. It is even rumored that some of the teachers have decided to form a team.

Our outdoor opening exercises were unusually fine Friday morning. The high sixth class sang a patriotic song in beautiful harmony, led by La Ellen Tally. The high fifth class recited in unison a hygiene program. Six girls told what is expected of an A-1 American girl. Others explained different habits of health, some in rhymes quite amusing.

The Civics clubs met Friday afternoon. The "Willing Workers" were treated to orangeade by Mrs. Lansdown, one of their mothers. After their business meeting, the Big Six club adjourned to the kindergarten where they enjoyed hot chocolate and wafers served by their refreshment committee. Interesting programs were given by the clubs in their respective rooms.

The art classes have been busy making posters for Thrift week.

KLAN AND ANTI-KLAN WAR RAGES HIGH IN SCRAP FOR CONTROL OF MUNICIPALITY

(NOTE: This is the first of a series of three articles to be printed in this paper concerning the situation at Anaheim as concerns the coming recall election at which time the voters of that city will ballot upon the proposal to elect five members of the city council. One side seeks to oust four members and retain one. The other side seeks to retain the incumbent and oust the one. Tomorrow the view of the anti-council group will be presented. Wednesday the views of the pro-council group will be printed. The Register is not taking sides and in these three articles does not seek to create sentiment either for one side or the other.)

Unfortunate Anaheim!
Neighbor hating neighbor, families divided, business disrupted, clubs in the throes of discord, fraternal organizations split wide open, leading citizens casting aspersions upon other leading citizens.

That doesn't half describe the situation.
There are two factions. The U. S. A. club says the Ku Klux Klan has caused all the trouble. The Ku Klux Klan leaders say the U. S. A. club has brought about the strife. In one respect, both agree. Anaheim is facing a crisis in its municipal history. The present situation is intolerable and must not be allowed to continue indefinitely.

A spokesman for the City Council Campaign committee, seeking to retain in office the four city trustees under the recall fire of the U. S. A. club, admitted that he saw no hope for the elimination of the present enemy through the recall election scheduled for February 3.

View of Other Side
A spokesman for the U. S. A. club took the opposite view. He said his side would win three to one and that the menace of what he said was the Ku Klux Klan would be crushed forever in the Mother Colony city.

The campaign committee leader said the trustees would be retained in office and the sole trustee whom the U. S. A. club would like retained in office would be ousted by a majority that would "make his head swim".

Both sides have campaign organizations in full swing. The headquarters are not much more than a block apart and on the main street of Anaheim. In each are earnest men and women, studying lists of voters, typing campaign letters and discussing plans to get out every available vote February 3.

Both sides agree also on the prediction that the battle of ballot February 3 will be the hottest in the history of Anaheim and the highest vote ever cast will be recorded.

Because of the wide and somewhat unsavory publicity (both sides admit that the newspaper accounts of the developments in the situation have not helped Anaheim by spreading the truth of its own discord to the world) the eyes of Southern California, klan and anti-klan supporters, will be upon Anaheim.

Claim Wets vs. Drys
The leaders of the City Council Campaign committee say that the issue is strictly one of the wets against the drys, whether the voters of the city of Anaheim, known years ago as one of the wettest towns in all the Southland, shall restore to power the former leaders and adherents of the saloons, who, they say, are in sympathy with the Eighteenth amendment, or whether the present city board of trustees shall continue to administer the city affairs of Anaheim and keep Anaheim "dry, once and forever".

The recall supporters say that the issue is not at all "wet or dry", that four of the present city council are klansmen, that when they took office they proceeded to weed out all the Catholics and other anti-klan people on the payroll, that they have given Anaheim klan-rule for klan purposes, that one of the first communications received by the new trustees upon their election last year was from the klan of the Ku Klux Klan, that in that letter "he reminded them who had elected them and what was expected of them in view of that fact".

The U. S. A. club maintains that the chief of police of Anaheim is a Citizen of the Invisible Empire and that as such he is not fit to hold public office in view of the precepts said to be upheld by the organization which they said he administers.

Claim Improvement in City
To combat this argument the other side declares that the present trustees have brought more

Police Seeking Missing Boy

City police are looking for Ernest Hamm, 14-year-old son of Grant Hamm, of 602 East Fourth street, who left his home last night at 6 o'clock and has not been seen since the time. Young Hamm is described as being five feet five inches tall, weighs about 105 pounds, has dark hair and eyes and when last seen was wearing a grey coat and vest, blue overalls and a brown cap. He limps slightly.

Former Senator Joseph W. Bailey of Texas, for many years prominent as a breeder of race horses, has decided to sell his magnificent stock farm near Lexington, Ky., and retire from the turf.

CLEAR TRAILS. ROADS THROUGH CANYON AREAS

Forty-two miles of trails and seven miles of roads were maintained under the direction of the Forest Service in the Trabuco district of the Cleveland National Forest during the calendar year 1924, according to H. E. Wahlberg, district forester in charge. "The work completed is another great stride taken to place that valuable piece of watershed area in first class condition from the standpoint of accessibility in case of fire invasion," he said, continuing:

"The area affected is located at Riverside and Orange counties and includes the Santa Ana, Trabuco, and Elsinore mountains, from which source the immediately adjacent citrus orchards, ranches, etc., obtain the major portion of their irrigation and domestic water supply. The value of protecting the area from fire is fully appreciated by the communities affected, as is evidenced by the fact that nearly half of the funds used in 1924 maintenance work came from their co-operation, the other half or balance being furnished by the Forest Service."

"Orange county annually votes $1,000 for trail construction and maintenance work in its mountain area, and last year the citrus growers around Corona and the Temecula canyons cooperated to an extent of nearly $1,000, which, with past co-operation from water companies in both counties and Forest Service funds, has enabled us to put in a first class trail system in the major portion of the Trabuco district. Practically every large canyon with its tributaries is now fire fighters access to a fire should it reach the high mountains. The trail also serves as a nucleus from which a wide firebreak may be made in case of extreme necessity."

"While the most important of the work has been completed, additional funds are being demanded of the Federal government to make the south end of this district more accessible in case of fire and for the benefit of graving permittees. "Most of the trail work is being carried on in the winter months when the weather is cooler and an opportunity is given the summer protection force to have year-long employment. Our crew is now located on the divide between Holy Jim and Mayhew canyons, doing maintenance and construction work on the main divide and Indian trails."

And so on, ad infinitum.

Preacher Takes Up Fight
One of the most striking angles of the whole Anaheim situation, perhaps, is the part the parsons are taking in the fight. The Rev. Mr. Myers is admitted to be the "big gun" in the "klansmen" as one member of the U. S. A. club referred to his opponents. The Rev. J. A. Geissinger, pastor of the First Methodist church, is recognized to be a leader on the other side. Nearly every preacher is either "agin" or "for" one side.

The campaign manager of the pro-council group called the Rev. Mr. Geissinger "yellow" and said he was ready to back up the charge. A lieutenant in the anti-council bunch described Myers in terms equally biting.

These matters of controversy are to be treated in two other articles on the subject of the Anaheim situation to appear in this paper tomorrow and Wednesday. Both sides have been invited to submit material on the subject and this will be presented in a manner intended to be fair to both with no advantage, as far as the newspaper is concerned, by reason of the presentation, for either side. The reader will arrive at his own conclusions.

Mrs. Eva Wells of Bozeman, Mont., is a Santa Ana visitor and guest of Mrs. Mary A. Cox of 806 North Ross street. Mrs. Wells is Mrs. Cox's sister-in-law.

The many friends of the Misses Elizabeth and Martha Stevenson will be glad to learn that the brother whose critical illness in a Pittsburgh hospital, recently recalled them to their eastern home. He is now improving slowly but surely. He was stricken with a serious illness just before Christmas, but the crisis seems to have been passed and the sisters are now assured of his complete recovery.

Farm Bureau Notes

The agriculture extension department has started gathering material for an educational citrus exhibit at the San Bernardino orange show the week of February 22, it was stated today by H. E. Wahlberg, county agricultural agent. Among other things, the exhibit will show methods of insect control, irrigation management and inarching or root grafting. A comprehensive and educational exhibit is planned by the department, Wahlberg stated.

Prof. L. B. Smith, assistant state director of the agriculture extension service, will be in Orange county tomorrow on a tour of inspection, it was stated at the local office of the extension service today.

The tour January 27 to inspect the overhead irrigation systems in the southland will be well attended by Orange county men, it was stated today by H. E. Wahlberg, county farm advisor. Those going on the inspection trip will meet at the V. M. Tressler ranch, one mile east and one mile north of La Habra at 10 o'clock. Overhead systems near La Habra, Whittier and in the San Gabriel valley will be visited. According to Wahlberg, a large number of people have telephoned their intention to make the tour.

Orange county's annual tractor school, sponsored by the agriculture extension department and the farm bureau, opened at the Santa Ana high school today. W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor; J. P. Fairbank, extension specialist with the University of California; and J. Stanley Winters, instructor in the division of agriculture engineering, are in charge.

Twenty-five men of the county are attending the school, which will end Friday evening. Four tractors are being used.

The only cost attached to the course is a small registration fee. The students are given practical training in the modern methods of operating and repairing tractors. Fairbank and Winters are assigned to tractor school work by the university, having 41 counties on their list.

NEW LAW NOT REQUIRED TO UNITE SCHOOLS

That the present state law governing establishment and operation of junior colleges is sufficient for the organization of a county junior college without any additional legislation, is the opinion contained in a communication received today by City Superintendent of Schools J. A. Cranston from Assemblyman S. C. Hartman of Fullerton, now attending the sessions of the state legislature.

Hartman's letter, dated January 17, follows:

"I have your letter of January 13 in regard to the question of a county junior college. "I have called into consultation this morning the attorney—I believe his name is O'Connor, of Los Angeles, and he has called my attention to section 3, law of 1921, page 264 which, in his judgment, appears to be sufficient for the organization of a county junior college, and that it would not be necessary for any further legislation to be able to accomplish it. I notice there that it would require a petition of two-thirds of the qualified electors in each junior college district to bring about a union such as has been suggested."

"Please examine this carefully in conference with the boards of education of Fullerton and Santa Ana and advise me of your conclusions."

Superintendent Cranston is a member of the general committee appointed by County Superintendent of Education R. P. Mitchell to investigate the advisability and feasibility of consolidating Santa Ana and Fullerton junior colleges into one county union junior college.

Inquiries made today at the board of education indicated that such consolidation would encounter considerable difficulties under the provisions of the present law and that "enabling legislation" simplifying the procedure is desired.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germ that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for putting up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter how long standing, not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co.

LECTURER IS WELL VERSED IN OIL GAME

Should you ever catch the money-making fever produced by reading stories about fortunes being made in "black gold" and then dream about Monte Carlo, Deauville and other joy centers with their continual jewelry and limousines, take a word of advice from Miss Mabel Cummings Cheney, noted lecturer on practical psychology and personality development, now giving lectures at the Temple theater in this city.

For what Miss Cheney doesn't know about such jargon as "balancing a well," "rigging a rotary," "pipe-line runs," "shutting down" and the rest of oily terms, isn't worth knowing. She has been through the mill and her observations furnished material for several well-written feature articles in national magazines.

Miss Cheney, now staying at the St. Ann's Inn, is the daughter of the late Albert Loren Cheney, well known authority and newspaper man. For a number of years her father was the editor of the Bridgeport Eagle, Bridgeport, Conn., and subsequently became the publisher of the Oyster Bay (Long Island) Pilot, where as a close friend of the late Theodore Roosevelt, he enjoyed peculiar advantages of intimate relations with the famous chief executive. It was after the death of the "Rough Rider" that Mr. Cheney wrote "Personal Memoirs of the Home Life of the Late Theodore Roosevelt."

Miss Cheney's sister, now the Mrs. Ralph Stewart Clinton, of Washington, D. C., was the private secretary of the famous president and the author of the story entitled, "As a Girl Saw Theodore Roosevelt."

THE NEW HUPMOBILE EIGHT IS HERE!

Some Mechanical Features

Lockheed hydraulic four-wheel brakes.
Special six-ply balloon tires.
99 1/2 pound balanced crank-shaft.
Light, rigid connecting rods; light pistons.
Machined combustion chambers, absolutely uniform in size.
Uniform temperature in all cylinders.
Thermostatic control of engine temperature.
Airplane valve mechanism (rocker-tappet type).

At 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, the eagerly-awaited Hupmobile Eight will be revealed for the first time at our salesrooms.

Hupmobile invites your immediate comparison between the performance of its new Eight, and all other eight-cylinder cars and all superior sixes.

For Hupmobile has here produced an Eight with all the sound qualities of endurance and reliability which have made Hupmobile famous the world over—

A car which now brings within reach of the average American family, for the first time, every eight-cylinder advantage for which buyers in the past willingly paid hundreds of dollars more.

The Hupmobile Eight possesses superiorities of its own, over and above the super-abilities of the eight-cylinder principle, which unquestionably single it out as a new leader among American eights.

In many important respects the Hupmobile Eight far outdistances anything hitherto accomplished in eight-cylinder engineering in America.

It produces more power per cubic inch of piston displacement than anything which has preceded it.

Its performance is so smooth and symmetrical that there is not even a murmur of "roughness" at any speed.

More than any other fine car, it combines compactness for handling and parking with roominess for riding comfort.

It records an average gasoline economy heretofore unequalled among eights.

It has beauty of design, finish and equipment not excelled within $1,000 of its price; and its own price is less than that of many sixes.

We venture to predict that the men and women who drive the Hupmobile Eight, in their own way and at their own pace, will never again be satisfied with any car that falls short of its amazing abilities.

The price of the New Hupmobile Eight is undoubtedly the most attractive ever placed on such a car. We are now ready to give out complete price information when you come in to see the car.

SCHOOL NEWS

Parent-Teachers Assn.

McKinley.
Second and third grade children will have prominent places on the McKinley P.T. A. at its meeting Thursday afternoon, January 22 at 2:30 o'clock. The meeting will be held as usual in the kindergarten room.

Lowell.
At the monthly meeting of Lowell P.T. A. late last week when Father's night was observed, the new chairs were used for the first time. These were purchased by the school board and the P.T. A. together.

Mrs. Ed McGaffey presided over the meeting which opened with a song by the B2 grade boys, "A Funny Story." The rest of the program offered a duet, "New Year's Song," Royce Prior and Ralph Carnahan; solo, "Windmill," Marie Stewart accompanied by Marjorie Woodside and two songs of pleasing contrast, "Though Cold the Blast May Blow" and "I Love You California," by the 6B class with Miss Jean Jones at the piano.

Miss Susanna Dean was then introduced and gave an interesting talk on "Child Welfare" with Life as the special subject.

At the next meeting each member is asked to bring questions as a question box will be a leading feature and department officers will be present to answer those submitted.

Julia C. Lathrop.
Julia C. Lathrop Parent-Teacher association will meet in the library at 3 o'clock Tuesday, January 20. There will be no formal program but a round table discussion instead.

Jefferson.
Father's night will be observed by Jefferson school next Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock and the address of the evening will be delivered by R. R. Miller, county probation officer.

John Muir.
Following the very interesting meeting last week of John Muir P.T. A., the school will try the plan of serving milk to the undernourished children in an effort to give every help possible to their mental and physical development. The decision was reached following an interesting talk on the milk supply of the city by Miss Idabel Durgan, county health nurse. All the different features of the afternoon program had milk as the dominant theme and readings and other offerings of the fourth grade children followed the general theme.

Miss Durgan, Miss Kuehl, city school nurse and Mrs. Amelia Meagher of the Red Cross, answered the questions in an interesting question box with which the program ended.

Frances Willard.
A regular meeting of the Frances E. Willard P.T. A. was held at the school last Thursday, Mr. Cranston, superintendent of schools, gave a very interesting and instructive talk on the various problems of the junior high school. Following this W. S. Kellogg spoke of the new health program and the success of the plan so far. Many of the parents expressed their approval of it and the interest with which the children are trying to attain a high health record.

On Exhibition.
A very interesting exhibit for thrift week is now on display in the exhibit case of the main building. Some splendid posters were made by the art department and the manual training department contributed several pieces of work. One of the main features of this week's exhibit is a miniature Taj Mahal, made of alabaster. Mr. Chamberlain loaned this to the school to have on exhibition.

Honor Society.
The Honor society entertained the honor roll with a party last Friday afternoon in Miss Violet's room. A very interesting entertainment of games were enjoyed and following this refreshments were served.

Every Girls' Club.
Officers of Every Girls' Club for next semester were elected in a general assembly meeting last Friday. The new officers are as follows: President, Clara Kate Owens; vice-president, Mary Ford; secretary, Margaret Mercereau; treasurer, Katherine Barry; reporter, Mary Belle Ball; yell leaders, Evelyn Morrison and Bobby Goodrich.

Spanish Class.
Members of the 6th period Spanish class went to the high school last week and presented a Spanish program before a meeting of the language teachers of the city. The program was as follows: Two songs by the class; an arithmetic drill by Evelyn Hunton, Bernice Davis, Kathleen Carmody, Peggy Bronson, Bruce Harding, and Davis McGee; short stories and anecdotes by Evelyn Hunton, Gertrude Avis, Bess Marie Simmons, and Helen Hamilton. A story was told about a picture and questions were asked concerning it.

New Health Program.
A new health program has been started among the Frances E. Willard students since Christmas vacation. A daily record is being kept by each pupil on the following ten health rules:

1. I was in bed 9 hours or more at regular time with windows open; I brushed my teeth at least twice; I ate three regular meals, including a wholesome breakfast; I ate at least two vegetables, including one green leaf. The greenleaf vegetables are lettuce, cabbage, spinach, celery, and any kind of greens; I drank at least 4 glasses of water; I drank no tea or coffee; I drank three or more glasses of milk; I washed my hands before each meal at home; I played one hour or more of vigorous games (besides physical education); I completely relaxed fifteen minutes.

Julia Lathrop

The program for the assembly of the Julia C. Lathrop High School, Monday, January 15, was presented under the direction of Miss E. Sturgeon. Mr. Nelson made a few remarks to the students and then Clarence Siddoway took charge and announced the following program:

Piano solo, "Berceuse," Joselyn, Ruth Breckenridge. Report on the basketball season and request that all students attend the games, Mr. Reed. Presentation of letters to the following girls for basketball and tennis by Miss Chalmers: Basketball—L. Moore (captain) R. Garner, M. Black, M. Huber, L. Cope, P. Waites, T. Bement, M. Seeber, M. L. Obrien, D. Probst, L. Eunny, F. Pessman; tennis—L. Moore, M. Nelson, M. Smith, M. L. Obrien, A. Thornton, R. Swanson, T. Larrabee, C. Nelson and A. Wilson.

Play, "What Became of the False Teeth?" "Mrs. Jones," Francis Sydel; "Mr. Jones," George Berry; "Dr. I. Lillem," Herman Goodwin; "Maudy," Doris Ashman.

National Thrift Week.
January 1-23 is one of the foremost annual events of this kind. Thrift week began during the war in 1916. It was given at this time in honor of Benjamin Franklin's birthday. It was originally sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. to encourage thrifty habits among the younger generations.

The American Society for Thrift offered a prize in 1913 for the best definition of Thrift. The prize was won by a Pennsylvania school girl. The definition was "Thrift is the management of your affairs in such a manner that the value of your possessions is constantly increasing." There are very many ways we can use Thrift. "Thrift" means very much to the National Insurance association and also the Bankers' association.

In the Julia C. Lathrop school there are many very fine posters made by the Y. M. C. A. They have many wonderful meanings. The Thrift week mottoes are: "Work and Earn," "Save your money," "Start a Bank Account," "Share With Others," "Own Your Own Home," "Insure your Home," and "Carry a Life Insurance."

We have two wonderful sayings from Russell Sage and Benjamin Franklin: "Thrift is such a simple thing and it means so much. It is the foundation of success in business, of contentment in the home, of standing in society," by Russell Sage, "Save, young man and become respectable and respected. It is the surest way. If you would be wealthy, think of saving as well as getting," Benjamin Franklin.

Sewing Exhibit.
The girls of Miss Foster's sewing classes are preparing for a big exhibit of their sewing. They will soon present a "Style Show" before the Every Girls' club. All the garments to be shown have been made by the girls in sewing. There will be forty-five dresses, thirty aprons and thirty princess slips. There are to be three little girls who have sisters who have made dresses for them.

A night scene will be put on by the girls who made night gowns and pajamas. There will be about 45 girls in the scene.

By Susannah Erbe.
Girls' League Speaker.
Miss Edith Alton, Girls' League advisor from the Senior high school came down to the Julia C. Lathrop Junior High school to talk to the girls of the graduating class. She told them that when they came up to Senior High school, she would have a junior girl to meet them and as a friend or big sister. This girl is to introduce them to other girls and help them feel at home.

Miss Alton explained the type of school clothes was a simple dress. Santa Ana is one of the seven schools in the state that does not make the girls dress in uniform. The subject of cosmetics has been spoken of so often that it is getting tiresome but Miss Alton said that that would not be spoken of up at High school then because it was not necessary.

She extended a hearty welcome to all the girls. She introduced the Girls' League president, Miss Annie Towner, who told the graduating girls that she was glad they were coming to the high school and that when they got there they would automatically become a member of the Girls' League.

Edna Evans.
Social Science.
The 1a, 1b, and 1d classes have been working out an interesting project in their Social Science classes. They have made original cross-word puzzles, using designs of their own, and choosing as far as possible, only words which involve questions of geography.

This proved to be a problem requiring intensive concentration, as well as knowledge of their subject.

Roosevelt.
The high sixth grade enjoyed a trip to Exposition park, Los Angeles, Saturday, accompanied by Miss Wells.

An unusual need has arisen at Roosevelt. One of the principals in the opera, he is given soon, had a touch of temperament and we find it necessary to fill her place. We are not particular as to color, but we should like to find a tiny black kitten to substitute for the beautiful white Angora cat which has succeeded in convincing the players this past week by constantly crawling out of her basket.

RETURN FROM TEXAS.
HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 19.—Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Andrews, returned home Saturday from four week's trip to McAllen, Tex., in the Rio Grande valley, where they visited relatives. Andrews reported that the valley was one of the prettiest spots he had ever seen. "One would almost think it was California," he said. They made the trip by train and reported six inches of snow in the canyon.

SAY CHARGES OF MODERNISM IN S. A. CLASS NOT JUSTIFIED

SEND PETITION TO EDUCATION BOARD

Action Follows Ban Placed on Questions Bordering on Fundamentalism

In an effort to clear up charges that controversial questions bordering on Modernism and Fundamentalism in religion are being taught in the philosophy department of the Santa Ana junior college, the students in the course of practically unanimous accord, have signed an expression of confidence in their instructor and the method of study through a petition which was to have been sent to the board of education today.

No action is expected to be taken by the school board, it is said, other than acknowledging the receipt of the petition with the request from the students that it be printed in The Register.

At the last meeting of the board of education by a unanimous vote it was decided to place a ban on the teaching of religious matter in the local junior college and to caution the instructor to be more careful about introducing questions in the course that bordered on the new school of religious beliefs.

The action by the students is declared to have been prompted by a desire to place the disputed subject in its true light and at the same time remove implied suspicion that the philosophy instructor was influencing religious opinions of students.

Students Defend Teacher
In the wording of the original copy the petition reads thus: "We, the students of philosophy, Santa Ana junior college, wish to state that nothing has been said in our class to retard our religious views or beliefs. Only religion and religious views have been analyzed with no personal beliefs expounded. Nothing has occurred to be detrimental to our minds and we wish to take this means of commending our instructor, whom we hold in the very highest esteem."

The petition was drawn up and circulated by James Eudaly, one of the students of the class. Of the thirty students in the class, he obtained all but two. These two students objected solely on the ground that more antagonism might be aroused through the added publicity, Eudaly declared.

"All the students of the philosophy class agree that there has been no effort made to change our conception of life and the all-powerful creator," Eudaly asserted. "We are merely trying to clear our instructor."

Say Questions Approved
The complaint made before the board of education cited a list of questions which were said to have been used in the philosophy department and to which exception was taken. One such question asked, "Do you believe in the existence of Satan?" Of the queries given here in a questionnaire some of the most objectionable were taken directly

NEW TRAFFIC LAW BECOMES EFFECTIVE IN LOS ANGELES AT ONCE, AUTOISTS WARNED

Santa Ana motorists driving in to Los Angeles tomorrow and in the future must watch their step, for a new ordinance regulating traffic becomes effective in the morning.

Incidentally, in the central traffic district, created by the ordinance, horse drawn vehicles are ruled off the streets between the hour of 4:30 and 6 p. m., daily.

Roughly described, the central district takes in that territory between Sunset boulevard on the north, and Ninth street on the south, from Hill street on the west to Los Angeles street on the east, and the territory between Ninth and Fourth streets from Figueroa to Los Angeles streets.

Left hand turns will not be permitted on Fifth street at Broadway, Spring and Main streets; on Sixth street at Hill, Broadway, Spring and Main streets; on Seventh at Hill, Broadway, Spring, Main and Los Angeles streets.

Movement of pedestrians in the district also is controlled by the ordinance. Walkers must cross at street corners and move with the traffic signal.

TWO STATIONS WILL OBSERVE WIND CHANGES

U. S. Department of Agriculture Will Establish Bureaus In County

Two observation stations for the study of wind velocity, humidity and evaporation will be established in Orange county by the United States department of agriculture within the near future. Major E. H. Bowie, San Francisco, in charge of all weather bureaus in California, who met with representatives of the farm bureau and the Villa Park center here Saturday afternoon, stated that the stations would be put in.

It is probable that one of the stations will be located at Olive and the other between Villa Park and El Modena. The machines necessary for the work, of extremely delicate construction, will be secured from headquarters at Washington, D. C.

Major Bowie was accompanied to Santa Ana by Floyd Young, weather bureau representative of this district, with headquarters at Pomona. Those who represented the county at the conference were Willard Smith, chairman of the Villa Park committee; H. D. Nichols, also a member of the committee; J. A. Smiley, president of the farm bureau, and A. M. Stanley, secretary-manager of the bureau.

It was due largely to the efforts of the farm bureau that Major Bowie became interested in the proposition to establish apparatus for the study of the velocity, humidity and evaporation of wind.

BANK DAY IN THRIFT WEEK IS OBSERVED

Today is "Bank Day" in the calendar of National Thrift Week. The purpose of the day is to call attention to the importance of using banking facilities in handling one's money. The American banking system is probably the most popular and convenient banking system in the world. It is the most largely used, and its service is beyond calculation.

"Banking something regularly is probably the surest way to accumulate a surplus of capital for special needs of the future, or for investment.

"Banks pay interest on savings or time deposits.

"When your money is in the bank it is working for you.

"Doing business with a bank increases your credit and financial standing.

"Your money is likely to be safer in a bank.

"Your banker can be relied upon to give you good advice on investments.

"Banks having safe deposit vaults afford safe places for valuables and important papers.

"Doing business with a bank encourages you to save more.

"A bank account tends to increase your credit.

KIWANISANS OF COUNTY TO GO TO WHITTIER

Will Celebrate Tenth Birthday of Founding of Kiwanis International

Kiwanis clubs of the fourth zone, comprising the club at Whittier, and all the clubs in Orange county, will join Thursday evening in a social meeting at Whittier in celebration of the tenth anniversary of the founding of Kiwanis International.

The anniversary week is January 18-24 and will be observed by the 1500 clubs in the United States and Canada. The first club was organized in Detroit.

According to W. G. Knox of Santa Ana, member of the zone entertainment committee, M. B. Wellington of Santa Ana, will deliver the principal address of the evening. Presidents of the clubs at Santa Ana, Anaheim, Fullerton, La Habra and Whittier will make brief remarks, with the Rev. J. A. Geisinger, pastor of the White Temple church at Anaheim, officiating as toastmaster. The program also will include musical numbers.

Dinner will be served at 7 o'clock at the Penn hotel, and following the program the evening will be given over to dancing. It is expected a large number of representatives of each of the clubs will be present, accompanied by their wives or sweethearts.

"The reason for the existence of the Kiwanis club is civic and social service to a community," Geo. R. Wells, president of the Santa Ana club, said here today, in commenting on the anniversary week.

"Because it is free from political, social or sectarian prejudices, the club is able to bridge the gap between highly specialized social service agencies and the general public.

"In every community there exists a shortage of man power to do civic and social work, rather than a shortage of tasks," Wells said the general policies adopted to guide the activity of all clubs during the present year are as follows:

"To promote an intelligent, aggressive and serviceable citizenship, including a determined effort towards a universal exercise of the franchise.

"To enlist the activity of all Kiwanis clubs in our program of service for the underprivileged child.

"To continue our effort to secure closer relations between the farmer and the city man.

"To stimulate added civic interest, cooperation and service on the part of all Kiwanians and Kiwanis clubs.

"To formulate and direct the influence of Kiwanis in matters of public interest in order that our organization may become a greater constructive force in the affairs of today.

"It is clearly evident that Kiwanis is built on idealism, but the great secret of Kiwanis is that this idealism is practiced by means of business-like organizations, and modern business methods."

CHARGE TWO WITH DRUNKEN DRIVING

Two men were arrested over the weekend on charges of driving automobiles while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. Two bottles of alleged booze were found in one of the cars, and both men are in the Orange county jail, awaiting a hearing before Justice Kenneth E. Morrison.

Both arrests were made by city officers inside the city limits of Santa Ana. The men were Jesus DeLeon, 32, of Alvarado, Cal., who was arrested by Officer Mohn. Tony Arejola, 25, was arrested at Second and Hesperian streets Saturday night. It was in his car that officers allege they found two bottles of "spirits."

RESERVATIONS FOR ANNUAL Y. M. C. A. DINNER MUST BE MADE BY TONIGHT, WARNING

Men who desire to attend the first annual meeting of the Santa Ana Y.M.C.A. are warned that their reservations must be made not later than this evening. A considerable number have already sent in their names, but others expect to attend who have failed to do so, and Secretary Ralph C. Smedley issued today this last-minute warning in order that none might be left out.

Smedley states that the meeting is not restricted to members of the association, but that any man who is interested in the work will be welcome. A telephone call to the Y. M. C. A. this evening will secure a place for the dinner.

Half-past six on Tuesday evening is the time set. An attractive dinner will be served under the direction of Mrs. Jessie Seales, matron, and the program of business, entertainment and speeches will follow. Maurice Phillips is scheduled for songs. O. H. Barr, a member of the National Council of the Y. M. C. A., will present a report

L. B. Child Is Hurt In Collision Here

A little girl, the daughter of P. T. Armour, 152 Quincy street, Long Beach, was slightly injured when the car in which she was riding with her father, collided with a car driven by J. A. Deval, of Garden Grove, at the intersection of Fourth and Flower streets. She was taken to her home.

According to the police report of the accident, the Armour car crashed into the car driven by Deval. Armour was going west on Fourth street, and Deval was on Flower street.

Both cars were badly damaged. No one in the Deval car was hurt.

BURGLARS VISIT TWO S. A. HOMES

Two of Santa Ana's best known citizens were selected as victims by burglars who were active in Santa Ana last night, according to police records. The home of C. D. Ball, at 1919 North Broadway, and that of W. B. Williams, vice president of the First National bank, at 1502 North Main street, were entered, although nothing was reported as missing from the Ball home.

A diamond ring, valued at $125, a gold watch, a keepsake, valued at $30, and a box of new silk hose was missing today from the Williams home. The Williams house was ransacked, drawers pulled out and the house thrown in general disorder. The burglars, however, overlooked a large sum of money and several other diamonds which were secreted in the house.

Clothing was taken from closets and drawers and piled on the floor. Mrs. Williams is of the opinion that it had been the plan of the burglars to take clothing also.

Entrance into the home was gained through the back door, a pass key being used, according to police report.

The burglars who entered Dr. Ball's home removed a screen from a rear window and then pried up the window. They also used a bar to attempt to open several locked drawers, but were unsuccessful. Dr. Ball told police he believed he frightened the burglars away when he returned home at 8:30 p. m.

FIGURES ARE COMPILED BY FARM ADVISOR H. E. WAHLBERG

More Walnuts Also Raised In Orange County Than Any Place In U. S.

AVOCADO ACREAGE IS FIRST, REPORT SHOWS

Irvine Ranch Largest Field In One Body Under Cultivation Census Reveals

The agricultural industry of Orange county, very appropriately designated "Nature's Prolific Wonderland," stands out prominently in state and national agriculture, it was revealed here today by Harold E. Wahlberg, county farm advisor, who has compiled comparative statistics from various sources—the federal census of 1920, county records and the crop survey made by the farm bureau and the horticultural commissioner's office.

Wahlberg says the county has the distinction of being the first county in the state, which means the United States, in orange production and acreage, walnut production and acreage, plum production and acreage, second in lemon and bean production and acreage and third in total acreage to fruit.

"Some of the outstanding landmarks of agriculture in Orange county include the Irvine ranch, which has the largest field in one body, approximately 25,000 acres; the San Joaquin Fruit company ranch, with the largest single avocado planting in the county, embracing some 240 acres; the Basten chury ranch, the largest citrus planting in the county, embracing 2200 acres, and C. E. Litt's vineyard at Lemon Heights, which is the largest planting in Orange county of eastern grapes," the farm advisor says.

County Fifteenth
According to the latest report of the bureau of census, Orange county ranked fifteenth among the counties of the United States in total valuation of crop and livestock products. Of these fifteen counties, seven of them are in California—Los Angeles being first, Fresno second, San Joaquin fourth, Tulare seventh, Sonoma eighth, San Bernardino twelfth and Orange county fifteenth.

"When the proportionate areas of the county are taken into consideration, however, Orange county heads the list with the greatest valuation of crops and livestock per acre. Orange county is less than one-fifth the size of Los Angeles and at the same rate of production per acre would far exceed the production of that county, which ranks first in the United States.

Here is some valuable data for agricultural residents to store away in their craniums, or clip and hold for reference, for it shows how the county compares with other representative counties in the state in relation to land area, number of farms, valuations, etc.: The land area of Orange county is 508,800 acres. In other counties it is as follows: Los Angeles, 2,635,600; San Bernardino, 12,912,000; Riverside, 4,622,720; Fresno, 3,808,000.

Orange county has 4188 farms. Los Angeles county has 12,444; Fresno, 3917; San Bernardino, 4022; San Diego, 3200; Riverside, 3949; San Francisco, 74; state, 117,670.

Property Value
In Orange county, the value of all property, per farm, is $42,183. In Los Angeles county it is $31,871; Colusa, $30,891; San Diego, $20,026; Fresno, $19,911; state, $23,158.

In Orange county, the value per acre is $481. In Los Angeles county it is $386; Colusa, $77; San Diego, $64; San Francisco, $1102; state, $94.

In Orange county, the average size per farm is 77 acres. In Los Angeles county it is 79; San Francisco, 179.

Although this is a statistical report, no doubt it has carried with it a perspective of the agricultural status of Orange county which has not been fully appreciated by the average resident of the county, the farm advisor commented. Continuing he added:

"An old Chinese proverb states, 'the well being of a people is like a tree: agriculture is its root, manufacture and commerce are its branches and its life; if the root is injured the leaves fall, the branches break away and the tree dies.' This was written many hundred years ago but is just as true today in this country and particularly in 'Nature's Prolific Wonderland'."

OUR NEIGHBORS

ONTARIO—The amount of money paid out by the four Ontario banks as interest on savings accounts during 1924 exceeded the interest paid by the banks and building and loan company combined for the year before by almost $15,000. Another evidence of the prosperity is the amount of money on deposit in the local banks on Dec. 31, 1924. On that date the four banks of the city had $3,503,256.08 on deposit. Although this is below that of 1923, it is more than $400,000 more than in the banks here on the last day of the year, 1922.

POMONA—Mrs. Maude Ovington will take up the work laid down by her husband, the late Mayor T. R. Ovington, and enter public service, if the citizens of Pomona act favorably on her candidacy for city treasurer at the local election, April 6. Mrs. Ovington will run for the office to be made vacant by refusal of Joseph Mullen, incumbent, to again be a candidate for re-election.

VENTURA — District Attorney Henderson has announced a new policy which will be calculated to make Ventura county unpopular with all classes of bootleggers, and particularly the silk stocking variety who travel in high priced cars. Confiscation of cars will be resorted to in all instances by the district attorney, he declares.

CALEXICO—This city boasts of a jail that is almost self-supporting. Since Police Joe Hardwick established a kitchen and a garden at the rear of the jailhouse. For years it has been difficult to feed the city prisoners, according to the chief, for less than 30 cents a meal. The meals were always carried into the jail, or the prisoners marched over to a restaurant. Last month the average price of meals provided for the prisoners was 6 cents. The jail usually includes a cook or two among its inmates. Kitchen help is provided by other prisoners, and members of the chain gang are employed in cultivating the garden.

SAN BERNARDINO—An injunction temporarily restraining Chief of Police A. A. Burdum, Police Judge R. E. Bledsoe and City Attorney William Guthrie from interfering with the operation of merchandising machines owned by Sheffer brothers and bringing to a test of the city's anti-gambling ordinance provisions has been signed by Superior Judge Benjamin F. Warner. The injunction will restrain the city officials from acting until January 23, when the issue will be submitted to the court by attorneys representing Sheffer brothers, who attack the ordinance as unconstitutional in that it bars from the city.

PASADENA—An extinct volcano probably one of the oldest in the world, has been discovered in the mountains 25 miles back of Pasadena by A. B. Call, geologist and well-known Pasadena resident. Discovery of the volcano is of interest from a scientific viewpoint and it is possible that some commercial use can be made of its perlitic rock. Call found the evidences of the volcano near the place called Vincent, about five miles from Palmdale. This point is on what has been proposed as a scenic road from the head of Arroyo Seco to Mint canyon. The geologist was much interested in the rock he found there. He discovered it to be perlitic volcanic rock. This was a surprise. Perlitic volcanic rock was not suspected in this region, he said.

LA VERNE—The new $45,000 packing house of the La Verne Citrus association is expected to open for work next week. All the machinery has arrived. In the packing house from 35 to 40 men will be employed in sorting, washing and packing of the fruit. Crews will be put on for picking the oranges and lemons. There are approximately 55 citrus growers in La Verne who will pool their fruit through this new association, which is a unit of the Mutual Orange Growers' association.

"If we are not allowed to take up these questions now, if we are not able to understand religious matters when we are as far advanced as college, then we never will be able to think about them," Eudaly offered. "As college students we ought to be conceded to have a mind of our own that will bear association with the thoughts of others," he concluded.

Movie Chatterbox

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 19.—Four years ago a girl, through persistence, had won the coveted privilege of talking to one of the screen's foremost directors.

For a long minute he looked at her scrutinizingly, then, "Frankly," he said, "you are not pretty enough to get into pictures."

Today that same girl, having taken prominent parts in many screen successes, is considering some dozen offers which have been made to her.

In this, the story of Margaret Livingston, is also the history of the progress of pictures from mere pulchritude to ability.

In early days, beauty was a paramount requisite, and directors had a certain unanimity in believing beauty consisted of wide eyes, flowing tresses, cupid-bow lips and a general baby-dollishness of feature and expression.

Now ability must go hand in hand with good looks, one balancing against the other.

Miss Livingston is pretty. But she is not complimented when she is so publicized.

"Pep, personality and persistence I have found to be more in demand today than mere prettiness," she declares.

"By personality," she explains, "I mean a growth of yourself into such parts as you desire to play. If one's ambition is for society parts, then develop the personality of a social belle; and similarly for one who seeks fame as a vampire or trembling rose."

"A girl without pleasure in mild flirtation has little chance to be a successful screen vamp," Miss Livingston believes. "Of course, I don't mean she must be a home-wrecker or lurer of men, but merely that she must find a certain amount of zest in such innocent affairs as the average girl relishes."

Miss Livingston recently finished her first leading part, the title role of Rose Stahl's stage success, "The Chorus Lady." Miss Livingston, while thus entitled to classify herself among screenland's "leads," also might assume other titles if she were so minded.

Ever since the days when she started as an "extra girl," in 1919, she has kept ponderous books of reference. Nothing which impressed her as containing a possible future hint for motion picture "gag" (an interpolated amusing situation), or subtitle, escaped. Thus she has been able to give many helpful hints to directors, scenarists and "gag men."

MOTORCYCLE RIDER IS STRUCK BY CAR

Hitting an automobile as he was sitting on his motorcycle at the side of the road, S. E. Powell, 19, 1931 Harrison street, San Diego, suffered a badly crushed foot and several minor cuts and bruises yesterday morning at 12:30, a half mile south of Tustin, on the San Diego highway. The driver of the automobile was also a San Diego man, A. L. Elliott, 22, of 335 C street.

According to the police report of the accident, both were coming towards Santa Ana and Powell had stopped and pushed his motorcycle off the pavement at the side of the road. The Elliott car crashed into him, running off the pavement and striking Powell's head. Powell told police here that he was blinded by glaring lights coming from the opposite direction and did not know he was off the road.

Powell was brought to the Santa Ana police station by Elliott and his injuries were dressed. He later returned to his home.

Stage and Screen

The artist's impression of Robert McKim, famous movie villain, who heads the vaudeville program at the Yost theater tonight.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

YOST—Vaudeville (five acts) and "The Midnight Express," with Elaine Hammerstein.

WALKER—Vaudeville and "The Arab," with Ramon Novarro and Alice Terry.

WEST END—"So Big," with Colleen Moore.

COLLEEN MOORE'S "SO BIG" NOW AT WEST END.

Colleen Moore—the Colleen of the putting, capricious flapper ways—has found a new metier in screen characterization. It is the portrayal of mother-love.

Colleen's newest vehicle, "So Big," which opened last night at the West End theater, gives her the first chance of her career to portray a mother.

It is the more exceptional in that it presents her both as a young mother and in middle age.

As Selma Peake De Jong, Colleen's role in "So Big" covers the gamut of heartaches and sacrifices a mother makes in bringing her fledgling safely through to the harbor of serene manhood. These sacrifices are the structure by which the action of "So Big" is developed.

Supporting Miss Moore in her severe undertaking is a cast of character players of fine repute, such as John Bowers, Wallace McEery, Ford Sterling, Dot Farley, Jean Hersholt, Sam De Grasse, Gladys Brockwell, Rosemary, Theby, Phyllis Haver, Charlotte Merriam, Henry Hebert, Baby Dorothy Brock and Frankie Darro. The part of her son is played by Ben Lyon.

"THE MIDNIGHT EXPRESS" AT YOST TONIGHT

"The Midnight Express," a picture featuring Elaine Hammerstein came to the Yost theater yesterday and was enthusiastically received by a large audience. In the opinion of the reviewer the enthusiasm was justified. A smashing railroad story with a really tender love story woven throughout the action made a very excellent and well balanced picture.

Elaine Hammerstein is featured and those who have seen her before will not be disappointed in her work. She is admirably supported in the lead by William Haines, the young man who has had a sensational rise to stardom. The rest of the cast was also very good. It included George Nichols, Lloyd Whitlock, Edwin Booth Tilton, Pat Harmon, Bertram Grassby, Phyllis Haver and Roscoe Karns.

ALICE TERRY, NOVARRO CO-STAR IN FILM.

Rex Ingram, producer of "Saramouche" and "The Four Horsemen," has made another wonderful photoplay in "The Arab," current attraction at Walker's theater. Ramon Novarro and Alice Terry have the principal roles, that of a Sheikh's son, and a missionary's daughter. The young Bedouin falls in love with the Christian girl, and through his tribe's savage and her father from intended massacre by the Mohammedans.

The story, taken from the stage play written and acted by Edgar Selwyn, is ideal for the famous trio, for Ingram shows his genius in an entirely new form of picture, and Miss Terry and Mr. Novarro look and act better than ever. The film was made in Northern Africa, and the natural locations are worth a trip to the theater alone.

Colleen Moore as she appears in "So Big," current attraction at the West End theater.

M'KIM, VILLAIN OF PICTURES, AT YOST

The irony of life in the "movies" is instanced by the career of Robert McKim, famous villain of the films, who is appearing personally at the Yost theater in a playlet called "The Bachelor's Bride." McKim has a legitimate kick coming against fate. Here's the sob.

"Millions of people have seen me and remember my face from the movies," he says. "To them I'm the chap who is always prosecuting beautiful girls. I'm bad. I've made a lot of money, but I've also made a lot of enemies. I like to foreclose mortgages. I'll raise checks, swindle widows and burn homes as cheerfully as you would light a cigar. I'll kidnap babies, cheat at cards and take pennies from a blind beggar. There's nothing good about me, and everybody hates the sight of me."

Now, really I'm not quite so bad as all that. I'm a man of peace, and wish the world well. And when the movie fans hate me, I wish they'd remember:

"That I've taken many a punch in the jaw from a leading man, just to earn a living, and I wouldn't let some of those punches look cross at me 'off the lot.' I've been a pal to thugs that off-stage I would be afraid to meet in the dark, and that's not a bed of roses. And I've met more violent deaths, including two hangings, that I can remember. I hate to be hung even in the movies."

"I'd like to be a hero, but the directors won't let me be. So when people recognize me on the sidewalk they needn't edge over to the curb. I wouldn't harm a soul."

McKim is, constantly "the villain" because he can summon to his countenance the meanest scowl that ever disgraced the brow of a scoundrel. But on acquaintance, he is as congenial as a congressman.

Billy Evans Says

More about the college star and big league baseball.

Manager Lee Fohl of the Boston Red Sox, who has chaperoned some highly touted collegians, has some definite views as to the status.

"I'm not wild about the college star," says Fohl. "My chief objection is that too few of them take the game seriously.

"The money involved, rather than the love for the game, is the motive of a majority in taking up big league baseball.

"When you pick up a scoundrel star with promise, the salary question is his last thought. He is delighted with the chance to make good.

"On the other hand, when you start talking business with the college star, his first question is usually about how much he is to get for signing.

"His next thought is a two-year contract that prevents you from sending him to the minors for much needed experience."

Fohl's contention is that a college player who comes to the majors in such a manner, lacks the proper incentive to make good. He has the club tied up, so why worry. There is no doubt about Fohl being right.

Fohl also points out another feature where the attitude of the collegian works against team harmony.

"One year on a major league club that I managed we had a college star who had been given a neat sum of money for signing," says Fohl. "That was good business on his part.

"On the same club that year were half a dozen minor league recruits, all of whom had more real ability than the much touted collegian. Not one of them had received a nickel for signing.

"Much to my embarrassment, the collegian took great delight in spreading the news among the rookie players as to his salary and what he had received for putting his name to a contract.

"He wasn't content with being lucky enough to get the money, he insisted on telling the world about it. As a result, I had a lot of disgruntled recruits among the minor leaguers."

Fohl's thought is that the educated ball player takes on the professional game as a sideline rather than a means of livelihood. Of course there are exceptions, like Eddie Collins and George Sisler.

Lee Fohl is conservative because he believes it is wise, and it is. Last spring when I asked him for a prediction as to his club's showing, he would only say: "We won't finish last."

He made good his prophecy, just a few points out of sixth. The other year when I asked him about 1925, his reply was:

"We are going to beat last year's record."

Fohl looks for a close race in the American league. He thinks Manager Harris of Washington has a big task ahead of him to repeat.

The Red Sox leader is fully aware of the strength of the Yankees and the Tigers and warns every body to keep their eye on Connie Mack's club.

EMIL YDE; INSET, JACK BENTLEY

Charles H. Ebbets of the Brooklyn Superbas is one major league club owner who takes an active part in directing the affairs of his team.

He is a practical baseball man. Ebbets knows the game from the cellar to the ceiling. If you don't think he does listen to his latest analysis:

"Two southpaws beat us out of the 1924 pennant. I'll pay a handsome bonus to anybody who will send me a left-hander who can make good on my ball club. All we need to win the pennant in 1925 is a good left-hander."

"Yde of the Pittsburgh Pirates and Bentley of the Giants cost us the flag last year."

"The pitching records show that the Pirates' recruit won four out of five from the Superbas in 1924, while the Giants' husky portlander won the six games he pitched against the Dodgers."

The Superbas were but 1 1-2 laps behind the Giants when the race was decided last fall.

That it is a difficult proposition to make a six-club baseball circuit a financial success is evidenced by the fact that practically all of the minor leagues that went through on a six-club basis last year are preparing to expand to eight-club circuits for next season.

Manager John J. McGraw is busy in the preparation of an elaborate schedule of exhibition games for his team next spring. The program, it is expected, will take the Giants over a wide expanse of territory after their finish their unblemished on the sun-kissed field at Sarasota, Florida.

LOOP LEADERS WRECK OILERS IN 18-3 GAME

Beanpicker Outfielders Do Stuff on Mound As Team Cinches Contest Early

Irvine's eighth victory of the season—Huntington Beach's ninth defeat of the season—

That's what happened yesterday when the undefeated league leaders from Irvine hooked up at Huntington Beach with the tail-end Huntington Beach Oilers.

Irvine won—18 to 3—in a game that allowed the proud Beanpickers to fatten their batting average and all the outfielders to try their hand at pitching.

Huntington Beach offered some real opposition to the cross-roads contingent for four innings, being only two runs in arrears at that juncture, but in the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth frames the Oilers were submerged under a fusillade of runs and hits. The Beanpickers scored six in the sixth and that many more in the eighth.

Arch Hawkins, "Dutch" Hinrichs, Neal Raney and Johnny Norek all did some mound work for Irvine and all of them fared far better than Corbett, Ashton, Smith and Bryan, the quartette that occupied the pulpit for the Blue Streaks.

The afternoon's heaviest bar-barring was done by Earl Drig and Joe Hauerte, Irvine, who garnered four hits apiece. Hawkins got three and Ranley, Pendleton and Armbrill two each.

NURMI AGREES TO REMAIN IN UNITED STATES

Flying Finn, Angered After Row With Chicago Track Officials, Wanted to Quit

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Relieved of a heavy peeve that he took on in Chicago, Paavo Nurmi, Finland's running champion, has decided not to return home at once and will remain in this country until late in March.

There are 15 more races on the program arranged by his managers and now he is in a mood to go through with his part, although he may not make any long tracks and may confine his competition to ten lap tracks.

Nurmi was almost in a rage when he returned here Saturday night from Chicago to run in his third race in 48 hours after having made a 2,000 mile railroad journey. If Nurmi had been beaten by Joie Ray in Chicago Friday, instead of turning in the new world's record he made, he would have demanded a ticket to Finland on the first ship out, it was learned.

The Finn claimed that he had been assured that he would run on a ten lap track and when he went out for the race he learned that the size of the track had been reduced to twelve laps and his plans for pace in the race had to be changed. He blamed the officials for using him only as the means of getting more money into the house at the expense of a reputation he might have lost on a smaller track.

Murray Hurlburt, president of the A. A. U. succeeded in getting Nurmi cooled off and after a conference with officials yesterday, Nurmi said that he would remain to complete his schedule. He insisted, however, that he be consulted when any changes are made on his program.

After Nurmi had seen Madison Square Garden packed to the roof for his race here and had heard that ticket scalpers were getting five times the face value of tickets here and in Chicago, he is said to have been curious as to the reasons for sending him a second cabin ticket for his voyage from Finland.

Nurmi showed Saturday night that he was not in good humor, but officials thought that he was just tired from a hard trip.

Do you Know BASKET BALL?

QUESTIONS

1. When does a substitute player actually get into the lineup?
2. Must a team have five players on the floor to make a game legal?
3. Ball is thrown through basket from below, goes high into the air and drops back into the basket. Is it a goal?

ANSWERS

1. Not until he officially reports to the referee and is recognized by him.
2. Team must start with five players, but if it runs out of subs and has no players to replace, men removed, it can continue to play with less than five and the game will be legal.
3. It is not regarded as a goal.

QUESTIONS

1. Is there any limit as to how long a player can hold the ball after completing a dribble, before passing the same?
2. Player standing still, bounces ball on floor. Is this considered a dribble?
3. Ball strikes girder high up in ceiling and bounces into basket. Should it be scored as a goal?

ANSWERS

1. Player, after completing dribble, can pass ball at his convenience unless closely guarded.
2. It is considered a dribble.
3. Unless there is a ground rule previously agreed upon that puts ball out of play when it strikes girder, it is a legal basket.

Hammering the offerings of three local pitchers all over American Legion park, Glendale council yesterday afternoon overpowered Santa Ana council, 24 to 4, in the deciding game of the first round in the Southern California Knights of Columbus league.

The local Caseys could do little with "Chief" Bill Butler, Glendale pitcher, while the visitors found Joe Maddox, Harry Gaspar and Kelly easy to solve. Seven errors also contributed to the locals' downfall.

Maag's home run was the only bright spot of the matinee for Santa Ana. The box score:

San Juan Capistrano—bye.

Garden Grove's pill-murdering baseball club all but eliminated the Van Dien-Young company, last year's champions, out of the running for the 1925 title yesterday when it won by a score of 18 to 6 in a free hitting game from the Santa Ana outfit.

The victory enabled Garden Grove to keep in step with the speeding Irvine league-leaders who took the measure of Huntington Beach for their eighth consecutive victory.

"Bucky" Jackson started on the turret for the Van Dien-Youngs but he was far too ineffective. Three runs in the first inning and five more in the second all but decided the pastime right then but the Chilpeps kept after him all the rest of the time he lingered on the ridge. Six scores in the sixth frame was too much so in the midst of this uprisings, Manager Heinie Kuykendall yanked Jackson and sent in young Oscar Spencer, high school heaver. Spencer's left hand slants were harder to hit.

Lempere started for Garden Grove but he found the road none too smooth and he went to the showers in the second spasm when the Van Diens began to spat him rather freely. Charlie Blaeholder relieved him and checked the building materials outfit the rest of the afternoon.

PLAN FOR NEW NATIONAL PARK IS CONSIDERED

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19.—Plans for forest fire prevention and control in Southern California tentatively approved by Colonel W. E. Greeley, chief of the United States Forest service, were announced here today.

The plans involved creation of a new national forest, wider distribution of recreational activities, extension of fire lines, communication roads and telephone lines and new methods of financing.

The plan was drawn up by the board of fire review for Southern California after extended investigation of the San Gabriel fire of last summer.

The board recommended that the Angeles National forest be divided into two separate units, the San Gabriel division of the forest to continue under the present organization, and the eastern division to be organized as the new San Bernardino National forest, with headquarters at San Bernardino. The new forest would have an area of 510,000 acres.

It was also recommended that about 10,000 acres of Indian reservation lands and private property, lying along the southern boundary of the present Angeles forest, be excluded from the federal area.

The system of roads, trails and fire lines in all southern forests would be enlarged, with a dual purpose, first to allow better access to fires; second, to stimulate recreationists to penetrate farther into the higher country thus relieving congestion in the foothill country.

The board also suggested that a special bill be introduced into congress providing for an appropriation of $1,000,000 for the protection of these brush and forest areas contingent on the expenditure of an equal amount by private agencies.

These private agencies were urged in times of fire stress to submit to direction of the forest service, for the general protection of valuable watershed lands to the end that fire fighting may be "systematic and not chaotic."

Order Execution Officers Missing

LIEGE, Jan. 19.—Colonel Von Thessman and Major Von Heden, German officers accused of ordering the execution of 125 citizens of Rosignol in 1914, were condemned to death by a court-martial here. The officers, however, are not here to be found, the German government having refused to give them up.

NOTE TELLS STORY OF LEAP FROM SHIP

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 19.—Pacific Steamship company officials today were assisting in straightening out affairs of A. D. Frost, who apparently jumped overboard from the steamer Admiral Pike, enroute from San Francisco to Portland.

"Captain: Wire these three addresses and break the news gently. Tell Mrs. Frost to look after insurance at once. Unable to stand the strain longer," was the note which was found on a pillow in Frost's stateroom.

The addresses, Captain M. A. Sohst revealed when the vessel arrived here last night, were: Mrs. Joseph Frost, 569 12 Hellotrope Drive, Los Angeles; Mrs. M. E. Keyes, 1400 Washington apartment, San Francisco, and Miss Bertha Stroll, 1031 Multnomah street, Portland. The latter was Frost's stenographer when he was formerly in business here.

Cafe Raids Cause Stir In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 19.—Film city cafe habitués were nervous today as a result of raids on well-known resorts throughout Hollywood. The latest occurred Friday night when federal officers broke up a dancing contest at the Merry Widow cafe and arrested a waiter, a guest and an alleged bootlegger who, the officers claimed, had a quantity of liquor in his car, parked nearby.

Horses Starving In Oregon

BAKER, Ore., Jan. 19.—To bring relief to 1500 starving horses, which are roaming the range of Baker county in a vain endeavor to find food, riders under the direction of Sheriff Henry McKinney and Paul Fleetwood, pioneer stockmen, have succeeded in corraling about 150 animals in the two days since the work started. The riders have seen the relief work having been started too late to save them.

The roundup was instituted by the Baker Humane society, the need for it having been forcibly brought to attention by the presence of semi-wild horses in the city, many of them practically begging at the back doors of residences. In some cases the horses are so weak they have to be shot to put them out of misery.

MOVE DOME, ADVICE

Baby's Body Is Found Near Road

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19.—The body of a baby bearing instrument marks on its neck, was found in a pasteboard box beside the Bayshore highway here by Joe Bartellucci.

OFFERS HOME TO REVENGE VICTIM

BOMBAY, Jan. 19.—Madame Baula, mother of the wealthy young Bombay merchant who was stabbed to death by Pathan assassins Monday night, today sought permission of the authorities to adopt Mumtaz Begum, the once beautiful match girl, who was the cause of the tragedy. Permission was refused.

The olive-skinned girl whose beauty was the toast of all India, has been made a nerve-shattered, hollow-eyed wreck by the horrors of Monday night when she saw her lover cut to pieces with Pathan knives and was herself mutilated.

The authorities fear Mme. Baula will not be able to afford the protection that may be necessary against the vengeful instigator of the outrage.

Mumtaz possesses a fortune in jewels besides a share of Baula's fortunes. The deathbed will made by her lover was signed but not witnessed, but his mother said today she would insist that the money go to the girl.

While the identity of her prosecutor, who sent Pathan assassins to kill her lover and disfigure Mumtaz, is not known, one of the murderers who was captured has been identified as a former mounted police officer and spy in the service of the Maharajah of Indore.

Free Pressing Is Not Popular Now

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 19.—There's a convention of cleaners and dyers under way here. On the crowded mezzanine of the official hotel, they have established a free pressing plant as an exhibit.

The dressing rooms were all filled when Walter Pilsner, hotel employee, decided to get his trousers creased. So Walter stepped behind a screen and disrobed.

Then a porter came along and moved the screen.

JAPANESE HAVE NO WAR PLANS, CLAIM

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—The Japanese foreign minister, after passage of the exclusion bill, made known to the American government and public that the idea of war was entirely out of the minds of Japanese officials, Frederick Moore, American adviser to the Japanese foreign office, said in a talk to the Federation of Women's clubs here today.

Nevertheless, Moore said, supporters of the big navy idea in the United States had used the popular resentment in Japan as a reason for furthering naval projects and the popular feeling in Japan was that our attitude was not only insulting, but menacing.

VESSEL OVERDUE, FEAR SHE'S LOST

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19.—The Norwegian steamer Golden Gate, with a crew of 35 and a cargo of cotton and phosphate, is fourteen days overdue at Yokohama and orders to search for her have been broadcast to all vessels, it was announced by Suzuki & Company, her charterers.

The Golden Gate cleared from San Pedro December 14 after loading fuel in her voyage from Galveston, Texas to the Japanese port. Cotton and phosphate is regarded as a dangerous cargo combination because of the fire hazard.

The run to Yokohama from San Pedro should have been made in twenty days.
